This is positively the last call for overcoats

Castro thinks all is lost but honor. He hasn't looked good for that.

These outing trips to the woods that the young people have been trying to have this week ought to count against them. They come back with cold in the head.

Very few of us can remember an Easter Sunday when the ladies could wear Easter dresses that didn't look like they needed a bearskin robe around them but tomorrow may be an exception but when you go to bet on the weather, don't.

Castro has not tried to come to the United States where we have no fear whatever of his ability to raise a revolution. If he fails to find a stopping place elsewhere he might investigate the advantages offered in and around Dothan. It is understood he has some money.

Most people who sue railroad companies for a million dollars at those who have been injured by the road, but a lady in Georgia is suing a street railroad for the hurt she received while walking. She was tramping along from one track to another, making a transference, and sustained an injury for which she claims the road is liable.

The Dime Novel is an "undesirable citizen," and it is high time this criminal be taken in hand and tried for its life. The Sunday school scholar who tried to hold up his teacher Uncle Asa Q. Candler, for a few thousand dollars, via the blackmail route now lays it all at the door of the Dime Novel. Says he must have read a million—and if he ever works out his sentence for black mailing, there will be another charge, that of lying, awaiting him.

All who know what a pretty basket can be made of willow, can see the possibility of willow culture. Ninety per cent of the best women must wear this season might have been willow work baskets of a dozen or so years ago aged just enough to give them a mellow yellow color. The shapes are the same as that of the old time work-baskets, one of which may be sitting on the table now within it the thread, pin cushion, piece of beeswax, the scissors and a hatful of buttons. The hat pin will carry out the knitting needle effect, so the whole thing is complete—not for $1.25, the price of the basket however but at about the price of an acre of land.

MAY BE HOT AIR

W I Pittman of Valdosta is the man who has compressed air in such a way that when it is used to propel machinery it catches up a fresh supply of atmospheric energy using this air as it goes and thus settling fully the perpetual motion question. The invention may or may not be sold but by going to Washington and showing the model propria he has secured his patents. He can run an automobile with it so claimed and the inventor says the principle can be applied to a hot train just as easily.

This completely revolutionizes steam power and the steam wagon is less for it will be no trouble for people to operate autos with it. When this model is put on the market we hope to be able to nab up some second hand cars for a greatly reduced price. Buy a White steamer for the present models will be selling for the price of old junk.

TAYS HE KNFW THE DEAD MAN

There is a negro working with G. W. Williams who has been with the Gypsies several years but left them when they were stripped here a few months ago. This negro says that the white man found dead a few miles west of Dothan a few weeks ago, was named Voss, and that he joined the Gypsies very recently and that he and his wife were camped in the town since Christmas. He moreover states that the clothing of the dead man was the usual street dress and before looking at the coat does not know if it is the coat of the man he is being referred to. He says that the man who was with that band of vagabonds here some time ago. He says all the men in the band are Negroes and that he had no English at all. He adds that he first saw up to the Gypsies that he had been born free from the old country and that he knew nothing in having any relatives in the country. He states that P. C. Miller, whom he knew, camped to live up at Dothan and that when he left he had a boy who he must have been in his way back to the Gypsies whom he met at Meridian. This all looks reasonable in the mystery of why the man was so cleared up. The negroes he was混杂 with had possibly not known which the camp was located with Miller and they figured that he would probably have been the case, but not the hood been found by accident.

SOCIETY and ITEMS of INTEREST to WOMEN

Kate Downing Guard

Miss Crawford Entertains

Miss Mattie Crawford entertained delightfully Friday evening at dominoes in honor of Mrs. Dora Bush of Eastgate Ma.

The parlors were most beautiful with a decoration of lovely yellow roses and lillies.

Miss Crawford is an all time gentle, gracious hostess and last evening was made pleasant and enjoyable for her guests. After the game of dominoes Miss Crawford served dinner and cake.

Those present were Mrs. Dora Bush, Olive Rhodes, Patti Cranberry, Margaret Kirkland, Brooks, Cochran, Stallings, Hwykins.

The Misses Frazier Entertain

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock Misses Toy and Anna Frazier were at home to the members of "The Bachelor Maids" formerly the C F H Club.

On entering the girls were made to feel perfectly at home by the cordial greetings of the hostess. In the parlor a cheerful fire added to the warmth of the hospitality for which this pleasant home is noted.

After an interval of pleasant chatter, these "Bachelor Maids" brought forth from their dainty receptacles the pieces of needle work they were engaged on and got busy. At that meeting it was the pleasure of the club to have with them Miss Marion Florence and Miss Evelyn Parks of Troy who is visiting Miss Mattie Frazier.

Salted peanuts were served during the hour for working and later refreshments in the form of strawberries, cream and cake.

On next Friday afternoon the Club will meet with Miss Mary Harris, on Rose Hill.

Mrs A H Brantley of Troy Ala., arrived today to visit her mother, Mrs M T Clark. Mrs Brantley will arrive tonight.
